BOYS ARE HELD UP

By Footpads Near the Sixteenth St. Station.

THEY ONLY GET TEN CENTS FOR THEIR PAINS

And Are Afterwards Arrested and Locked Up in the Oakland Jail.

Robbed by Three Men.

Edward Peterson, a Wells, Fargo & Company's employee, was held up and robbed near the Sixteenth street railroad Wednesday night. He was walking along the railroad track from Watts' tract with Caspar Harold. As they approached the depot three men seized them. Harold escaped and ran to the depot, where he found Policeman Scanlon. The trio disappeared meanwhile, after forcing Peterson to yield such valuables as he had. Early yesterday morning Noble and John Davis, brothers, were arrested by Scanlon, who found them hiding in the freight shed, near the depot. Harry Warren was also arrested. Peterson identified the Davis boys, but could not locate Warren, who was released. Noble was long sought by the police for having two years ago assaulted a saloon keeper. Earlier than that both were in a crowd that assaulted ex-Policeman Thomas White, after taking away his club, pistol and star. They will be charged with robbery.

An Object Lesson.

If any person has had any doubts heretofore as to the advantages of advertising, they should visit Oakland and note the great fire sale now going on at J. T. Moran's corner of Eleventh and Broadway.

About 10 days ago his stock of clothing was damaged by smoke from the fire that occurred in the paint shop just below him.

Four or five days since, he placed an advertisement in the Oakland, Alameda papers and one in the GAZETTE, announcing that he would sell his goods at greatly reduced rates and announced yesterday at 9 o'clock as the hour of commencing the sale.

Long before the hour of opening arrived, a large crowd of men and women blocked the sidewalk in front of the store, and it was necessary to get a force of policemen to keep them in order, and keep a passageway open for those who desired to pass up and down the street.

As soon as the doors were opened the store was filled up with people anxious to get bargains and the doors had to be closed until they were waited upon. This was done time and time again through the day, and when the hour for closing came there were still hundreds of people who desired admittance. The same state of affairs existed today and it is probable that it will continue to be the same way until all the goods are sold or Mr. Moran takes out his advertisement.

The Woodmen of the World of Alameda county have arranged to hold a grand union picnic at the San Lorenzo Grove on Saturday, May 9th. Every camp in the county appointed a committee of two on arrangements, and last evening this committee met in Oakland, and completed arrangements for the event. They intend to make it the finest family picnic of the season. Special cheap rates of transportation will be made, so that the Woodmen and their families from every town in the county may attend.

The Berkeley Orchestral Society's third concert will take place in Shattuck Hall on Thursday evening, April 16th. The program for the occasion is already in preparation. In addition to the orchestral music by the society there will be solos by Miss Helene M. Johnson and William N. Harris. The Upsilon male quartette will render several selections and R. E. Yarndley will give solos on the cello.

The reception given last evening by the Crescent Athletic Club to Mr. A. W. Stamper and bride was a very delightful affair. Addresses were made and toasts offered in honor of the newly wedded couple, after which dancing was indulged in for several hours.

Michael Strogoff at the Oakland Theatre has proved a success.

Deputy Marshal Fred Rawson has loaned a set of encyclopedia to the West Berkeley Free Reading Room.

Miss Mabel Hacker of Empire City, Oregon, is in the city and is a guest of Miss May Hanscom.

Mr. A. S. Rohrer's comedy operetta, "The Bandit," will be given at Shattuck Hall this evening.

The firm of H. H. Scott & Sons, coal merchants of San Francisco, have opened a branch of their business at the corner of Center street and Shattuck avenue, Berkeley.

The suit of Frederick Wilkes against his wife, Emma, was called in Judge Frick's court yesterday, but was referred to the Court Commissioner to take testimony.

Nat Kerns was made happy yesterday by the arrival at his home of a bouncing baby boy. Nat is walking on air today, and Grandpa Kerns, well, he is out of sight he feels so proud.

The freight trains that pass through West Berkeley these days are loaded principally with cattle, sheep and hogs for the Stockyards in Berkeley and San Francisco.

The entertainment given last evening at American Hall by the W. A. P. A. was well attended. A good program was given, and a fine address was made by B. F. Huddelson.

The heavy wind yesterday blew the windmill, which stood in the yard of Conductor Howard Pereau into Adam Dean's yard next door, and totally demolished it.

Michael Strogoff is delighting thousands of people at the Oakland Theater. Be sure and see it or you will miss one of the finest plays ever given in Oakland. Notwithstanding the great cost of putting this play on the stage, the prices of admission remain as usual, 10, 20, 25 and 30 cents.

Mrs. Mary Devincenzi died suddenly at her home on Tenth and Folsom streets, Golden Gate, at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. She became sick after retiring and died before medical aid could be secured. She was aged sixty-nine years, and was a native of Italy. An inquest will be held by the Coroner.

IT IS VERY UNFAIR

To Make Men Wait in Court for Tardy Attorneys.

A Word for Jurors.

There were thirty very indignant Berkeleyans assembled about the Town Hall this afternoon. They had been called from all parts of the town to serve as jurors in a liquor case. It was not this particular case which displeased them so much as the fact of being taken from the labor upon which they and their families are dependent for a living for really nothing.

In the first place the hearing of a case is set for a certain hour and should a juryman be five minutes behind he is liable to a fine. The counsel in a case may be an hour late and nothing but the low grumbling of the jurors can be heard. Whether Berkeley suffers more than any other town we do not know. There should be some remedy or the time will come when no one will accept a jury position, and then what will be a farce. If this matter can possibly be straightened so that the majority of citizens will not be subordinated to the few the sooner it is accomplished the better will be the feeling in this cultured community.

The People's Party Club of West Berkeley, will meet this evening in the rooms of the West Berkeley Progressive Club, and transact such business as may come before the Club, and also select a polling place for the primaries which take place on the 18th inst.

Mr. Ellsworth of the First Ward in Oakland, visited West Berkeley, today in the interest of the Oakland Republicans, who desire to hold primaries next week. He is in search of two gentlemen who will act as committeemen from West Berkeley at the meeting to be held in Oakland tomorrow evening.

Mrs. R. P. Thomas of La Loma Park yesterday drove Miss Susan B. Anthony all over Berkeley, showing her the beauties of this section. At the conclusion of the drive Miss Anthony expressed herself as delighted with Beautiful Berkeley.

The University Students Raise Money

TO SEND THE STUDENT TEAM EAST.

Co-Eds Vie With the Students in Subscribing the Dollars of Our Daddies.

Mass Meeting of Students.

The associated students of the University of California met in Harmon Gymnasium yesterday at 1 o'clock and in thirty minutes subscribed for $600 worth of tickets for the benefit athletic fete to be given in Central Park on May 2nd. Colonel George C. Edwards, who last year raised $1000 for the Eastern trip from the students, had charge of the subscription list. Nearly all the college organizations subscribed for tickets and the Colonel is positive that the shortness of time alone prevented him from surpassing his record of last year. The co-ed basket-ball team took $25 worth of tickets and were roundly applauded.

Manager Friend gave the list of meets the Berkeley boys will have when they get across the Rockies. The first contest after their departure on May 7th will be with the University of Minnesota, four days later. On May 16th they will meet Union College, on May 23d, Harvard, and on May 30th they will try their fortune in the Mott Haven games. According to agreement, last year's tie with Pennsylvania will be played off after the Mott Haven meet.

President Kellogg excused all recitations during the meeting, and nearly 600 students were present.

For the first time in years a large number of women students attended and took a hand in the transaction of business. Their presence was due largely to an expected discussion of granting the big C to the "co-eds" basket ball team, but they were doomed to disappointment. President Friend deftly steered clear of the subject, preferring to await further action by the Athletic Committee.

If the Republicans of Berkeley wish to have any representation in the political movements of the day they must organize in some way. Action was taken yesterday in Oakland in the matter of having primary elections for delegates. All the rest of the county was represented except Berkeley. Wake up Rip Van Winkles and move on.

The Board of Education will meet tomorrow (Saturday, April 11th) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of canvassing votes cast at the bond election; also it will hold a regular meeting. Arrangements have now been made so that the Board will continue hereafter to have its regular meetings on the first and third Monday evenings of each month.

The annual election of officers of the Southern Pacific Company took place in San Francisco yesterday resulting as follows: President, C. P. Huntington; vice-president, Charles F. Crocker; second vice-president, T. H. Hubbard; third vice-president, J. C. Stubbs; treasurer, N. T. Smith; assistant treasurer, F. H. Davis; secretary, E. C. Wright; assistant secretaries, C. F. Krets and J. E. Gates; controller, William Mahl; assistant controller, E. C. Wright.

When a person is hurt they generally make an outcry so that everybody can hear them and sympathize with them because they are hurt. That seems to be the case with our evening contemporary because the GAZETTE is giving prizes to boys and girls who get subscribers and because we are offering some teacher a chance to spend a couple of weeks pleasantly at the Springs during vacation.

John E. Boyd writes us today that his old horse deserted his new owner at Willows, Glenn county, and returned to Berkeley, a distance of 147 miles. He must have swam the Sacramento river on his return.

Odd Fellows Picnic.

The Odd Fellows of Alameda county, together with the Rebekahs, will celebrate the seventy-seventh anniversary of the order by holding a grand picnic in Niles Canon, Saturday, April 25th.

Nearly every subordinate and Rebekah lodge in the county is taking active part in this affair and the chairmen of the various committees are doing their utmost to make it a big success. It is a noteworthy fact that the committee upon the ground will prevent the sale of liquor upon or near the grounds.

It is a notable fact also that the outings of this most excellent fraternal order are conducted in a most careful manner and ladies and children are assured that everything possible will be done for their comfort.

News of a very rich strike in the Rawhide gold mine is being well circulated about the country. We believe this mine is on the Boston market for sale. In such cases a great deal of allowance should be made, as these reported strikes are published for the purpose of selling the mines. The Rawhide may be a first class mine, however.

A GOOD LIGHT

Is Offered to All by the American Gas Company.

A Good Light.

Light is a gift of God. It is necessary to the human existence. Man is not satisfied with that provided for him in the day time, but feels that he must have it when that provided by nature is not at hand. Various are the methods for producing artificial light invented by the ingenuity of man. Among the various ideas put in practical form are those concentrated in the machines manufactured by the American Gas and Ventilating Machine Company, of Oakland. By the use of one of these machines manufactured under the late patents of 1890, gas can be used at less expense than any known kind of artificial light. These machines are automatic, getting their power from water pressure and compressed air through a brass cylinder. No surplus oil is taken up, and no more goes into the pipe than is necessary to produce the best possible light. The gas made by the improved process being from eighteen to twenty four candle power, with a two-foot burner, will give as much light and of better quality than capacity used for ordinary gas made in any other way. It is entirely free from the many combinations in gas generally used, which makes it the purest illuminating or heating gas known, and there is less chance for asphyxiation or danger to life when exposed to its escape in a closed room.

The gas used with this machine is free from smoke and oder while burning; gives a steady light; uses the same grade of oil in Summer and Winter; is entirely automatic; burns with the flat bat wing or argund burner and can be used for power as well as lighting, heating and cooking.

These machines are now being used in Berkeley, Oakland, Monterey, Santa Clara, Belmont, Calistoga, Palemo, Sunol, Vacaville, Los Angeles and in fact in all the different parts of the State. The highest enconiums have been given to the company by those people now using them.

Parties desiring further information in regard to these gas machines can be fully supplied by writing to W. B. Harrub Esq. 1060 Webster street, Oakland, or personally calling at this address where a machine can always be seen in operation.

The ballet and specialty business at the Oakland Theatre is immense.

A PLEA FOR CHILDREN.

F. E. Booth, Who Lost Two Babies

ADDRESSES THE OAKLAND CITY COUNCIL

And Asks That the Electric Roads Be Caused to Put Fenders on at Once.

Would Save the Babes.

Frank E. Booth appeared before the City Council last night to make an appeal for the protection of the lives of the children of Oakland. A short time ago Mr. Booth's two pretty little girls were killed by an Eighth street electric car, and since that time he has given street cars and the fenders used upon them some study. He now feels that the lives of children are in danger so long as the companies refuse to place proper fenders on the cars. He was accompanied by his attorney, Sam Bell McKee, who made a speech in behalf of Mr. Booth.

"Mr. Booth comes before you tonight," he said, "as a citizen asking protection for the lives of the children of this city. He has cause to be interested in the subject, for recently the matter was brought home to him by the death of his own little ones.

He feels that possibly the children might have been saved had there been a proper fender on the car that ran them down. The fenders used on this line are nothing more or less than man-killers.

"Now Mr. Booth desires that the Council shall take some action to compel these street railroad companies to provide their cars with fenders that will give a person who may be struck by them some chance for his life. Mr. Booth feels that it is his duty to act in this matter, and at his request I have come before you to express his views. There is an ordinance on the statute books of this city which requires the companies to place fenders on their cars, the same to be approved by the Council. For some reason unknown to me this ordinance seems to have been a dead-letter. It seems to me that it, if enforced, would answer the purpose, and on behalf of Mr. Booth I request that the law be enforced."

The Chief of Police was instructed to enforce the ordinance at once, and arrest those who refused to obey it.

After the meeting Mr. McKee said that Mr. Booth would probably sue the Oakland Consolidated line for heavy damages for the death of his two children.

It is keeping the attorneys and the public guessing as to what Lawyer M. C. Chapman's move means. His leaving the court and taking his client with him is a sort of unheard of proceeding. It evidently is the beginning of some move against the legality of the court.

The poll tax man in the person of George Schmidt, is rounding up the male citizens over the age of 21 and He only excuses paupers, idiots and Indians.

A force of section men were busily engaged today in ballasting the railroad tracks between the Stockyards and West Berkeley.

Up to the hour of going to press Fred Fonzo had not been arrested on the bench warrant issued out of Justice James court this morning.

The people of Berkeley and surrounding country now have an opportunity to sell their eggs, butter, poultry, game or anything in that line at the very highest prices. Call upon A. Cassagnes, 1607 Fifth street, corner of Holyoke street, West Berkeley, who will buy whatever you have, either in large or small quantities. 48 tf

Still Coming In.

The contest for the GAZETTE prizes is still being pushed, and votes are coming in every day in large numbers. More boys and girls are now at work since the prizes have been placed on exhibition in Kelsey's pharmacy.

On every hand are heard words of commendation for the enterprise of the GAZETTE.

The school children, according to our contemporary, are begging and borrowing GAZETTES in order to get coupons upon which to vote the name of their favorite teacher.

New subscriptions continue to come in and the children are happy, the teachers are happy and so are the publishers of the GAZETTE.

Heretofore newspapers in Berkeley have offered prizes such as Illustrated California as a premium for subscriptions, but after gaining the subscriber the promised premium was never delivered.

There is no misrepresentation about the GAZETTE, as it gives everything it promises, and as a guarantee that such is the case our prizes are now on exhibition where everybody can see them, and will be exhibited in every section of town before the first day of May.

HOME TO DIE.

Mrs. Sequira Arrives Home and Dies at the Door.

Death of Mrs. Sequira.

Mrs. John Sequira of North Berkeley, died this morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. She had been sick for sometime, and was taken to the hospital where an operation was performed and a tumor taken away. As far as that was concerned the operation was successful, but a cancer had developed and it was only a question of a short time when it would prove fatal. She desired to return to her home knowing well her condition. This morning the change was being made and she passed away just as she had reached the door of her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sequira lived in Haywards for a number of years and were well known there. A few years ago they moved to North Berkeley, where Mr. Sequira carried on the shoemaking business, and Mrs. Sequira conducted dressmaking.

Mrs. Sequira had the respect and the affection of her acquaintances, and the bereaved husband deeply feels the loss of his companion for many years. Notice of the funeral will be given hereafter.

Contractors who desire sand or gravel, or property owners who desire gravel, sand or garden dressing should address Henry Neidt & Co., Golden Gate. Telephone No. 739, six bells. All orders receive prompt attention. 24.

A CRISIS IS COMING

Are Interesting Developments in Cuba.

CLEVELAND SO FIXED THAT HE MUST ACT.

General Weyler Says That Spain Will not Yield Until the Island has Been Conquered.

What Will Cleveland Do?

New York, April 10.—A Sun special from Washington says: Secretary Olney was in consultation with President Cleveland at the White House last evening, and this conference together with the fact that Olney and the Spanish Minister had a consultation at the State Department yesterday, is indicative of serious and constant consideration which the administration is given to the Cuban question.

There seems to be but little doubt that the President and Secretary of State are in daily receipt of private information from Cuba, furnished by some trusted agent, and that they have informally agreed upon some line of action to be taken as soon as they are convinced that the time has arrived when intervention of any sort would be justified.

The prevailing opinion here among those who are giving attention to the Cuban question is that within the next few weeks, certainly before the rainy season in Cuba sets in, when all military operations must be practically abandoned, the President will in some manner announce to Spain that the United States proposes to intervene in behalf of the independence of the island.

Among public officials the opinion is quite general that the President has already notified the Spanish Government of his disposition to interfere, and that the various conferences of the past few days have been held at the instance of the Spanish Minister, who has presented the protests of his Government and endeavored to suggest some diplomatic propositions looking to a postponement of the President's policy, whatever it is.

It is not thought the President will act at once, but that he will make the announcement of his intentions some time before the adjournment of Congress is not at all probable.

A Herald special from Washington says: Mr. Cleveland endeavored before the passage of the resolutions to lead up to an offer of the good offices of the United States by having Mr. Taylor at Madrid sound the Spanish Government to learn how such advances would be received.

Since the passage of the resolution in Congress these efforts have been renewed, and one of the reports last night was that the representations are being made to the Spanish Government of such a character as to let it be understood that something must be done soon to bring the insurrection to an end or the United States will be compelled to take a positive stand in the matter.

Wrongly Convicted.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 10.—William Slowey, who has been in the Fort for the murder of a traveling man in his saloon in Clinton, has been pardoned. The man was choked to death in an attempt to rob him. Slowey's wife and a negro named Harris assisted as was then supposed. Slowey was sent to the penitentiary for life, and his attorney, Lymon S. Ellis, was glad to get his client off without a death sentence. Harris was sent to prison for a term of years and died there.

On his deathbed he confessed that he and Mrs. Slowey killed the man, and that Slowey tried to bring him to life, as they did not suppose they had killed him. Slowey is an old man and served four years in the army. He was a model prisoner, never breaking a rule. He has a brother in New York, who offers him a home there for the rest of his life.

Attorneys Foote and Fitzgerald did not file the answer, yesterday, of Dr. Crowley to his wife's complaint in her suit for divorce. The legal time in which he could make a move without defaulting in his appearance would elapse yesterday, but the doctor's attorneys secured an extension of time for one week from Mrs. Crowley's counsel today. Attorney Fitzgerald made the request for further time, stating that he and Attorney Foote desired to consult further before they made any legal move in behalf of their client.

THE FONZO CASE

Assumed a Very Peculiar Phase in Court Today.

Fonzo's Case.

This morning at 10 o'clock the case of the people vs. Fonzo charged with selling liquor within the mile limit was called in Justice James court. Town Attorney Hayne with Assistant District Attorney Moore appeared for the prosecution and Ex-Mayor Chapman for the defense. The usual demurrer was used and as Mr. Moore thought the complaint might be amended a continuance was asked for. In both cases the Judge gave a decision overruling the objections. Upon this the counsel for the defense and the defendant left the court room. A bench warrant was then issued for the defendant and the case was postponed until half past one o'clock.

It is too bad, to speak in the mildest kind of a term to have thirty men who had been summoned as jurors to be fooled out of their time in this manner. Jurymen have some rights but it would appear that they are not much respected.

At 1:30 oclock, the defendant not appearing in Court, the judge declared the bond forfeited. The bondsmen are Joseph Raspellar and John E. Boyd.

Blythe H. Handerson, of Berkeley, a clerk, has filed a petition in insolvency. He owes $953.76. His assets amount to $165, exempt from execution.

NO PRIMARIES.

It is rather amusing to watch the antics of the Oakland Enquirer and a few men who once deserted the Republican party and became Nonpartisans, try to get hold of the reins of the party by shouting in favor of primaries. They have tried by every means in their power to have somebody in authority call the primaries, and then it was their intention to pack them and vote themselves in as delegates.

When they failed to impress the Congressional Committee that primaries were the proper thing they took a new tack, and called upon each and every member of the County Committee asking them to pledge themselves to vote for a call for primaries for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention, which will be held in Sacramento in May next.

The members of the County Committee declined to become a party to the scheme, as they had no power to call primaries as a Committee. The power calling for primaries is vested in the State Central Committee. This Committee instructed the different Congressional Committees to act upon the matter. The Alameda County Committee decided that the delegates should be appointed, and that put an end to the matter.

These disgruntled ex-Republicans, ex-Nonpartisans and ex-any party that will not give them public hap now threaten to hold primaries anyhow.

They have declared that they will hold the primaries on Saturday week, and that their delegates will go to Sacramento and be seated. This is a bluff that will not work for the Convention will not recognize the delegates named By a crowd of disgruntled bolters from the party in former years.

When a man leaves his party and votes and acts with another he cannot expect to come back and be pushed to the front as a reward for his desertion. Some of the most prominent men in the party found this to be true. Some years ago Newton Booth, Sargent, Johnes, Swift, and M. M. Estee bolted the Republican party and formed what was known as the Dolly Varden party which placed Newton Booth in the United States Senate. After this had been performed the leaders returned to the Republican party expecting to lead it and hold the principle offices under it, but that is where they made their mistake. When Newton Booth's term of office expired he was relegated to oblivion as far as politics were concerned; A. A. Sargent the same way. John F. Swift desired to become Governor of the State and succeeded in getting the nomination but the Republicans repudiated him at the polls and elected Governor Bartlett, the Democratic candidate, and Lieutenant-Governor Waterman, the Republican candidate. The same medicine was dealt out to M. M Estee in the last State election when he was defeated by Jim Budd.

This is what is in store for those ex-Republicans who are now claiming to be Republicans again, and are crying fraud and bossism because the Congressional Committee will not allow them to dictate to the true blue Republicans who have always remained faithful to their party and its principles.

If there were any way of getting an honest expression of Republicans by holding primaries, we would be in favor of it. In this county a large proportion of the voters do business or are employed in San Francisco, and they will not take the time to go to the primaries and vote, consequently a lot of ward politicians have everything their own way, and men are nominated in the conventions, whom the mass of Republicans do not desire.

The Congressional Committee is composed of prominent Republicans who will appoint only good men and good Republicans as delegates to the State Convention.

FLOWER FESTIVAL.

On the 22nd and 23d of this month there will be a flower festival held at Styles Hall, under the auspices of the Unitarian Society.

Every citizen in Berkeley should take a hand in this and make it one of the most successful events that have ever occurred in Berkeley. The flowers are here, and all that is necessary is for the people to gather them and arrange them.

Every society in town should apply for space, and then should go to work and get up some emblem of the order in flowers. For example, the Junior Order of American Mechanics could secure space for a large American flag in which three kinds of flowers could be used, and it would look beautiful. The Odd Fellows, Masons, Woodmen of the World, Knights of Honor, Chosen Friends, Knights of Pythias and other orders could all secure space, and thus bring their orders before the immense crowds of people who will be sure to attend this festival. Prizes could be offered for the best designs and best displays, and this with the individual displays of private citizens would make a show that would bring hundreds of people from San Francisco and Oakland to witness the display.

It only takes a little unity on the part of our citizens to place Berkeley constantly before the people in a very pleasant light. Let everybody unite and make the coming flower show one of the events of the season. It can be done very easily and with but very little cost.

The University students at their meeting yesterday proved their loyalty to the University. A meeting was called to devise ways and means for sending the college athletic team East next month to battle with the giants of the older Universities in the Eastern States. The students were enthusiastic and in about thirty minutes they had subscribed for $600 worth of tickets for the field day sports which are to take place tomorrow. The co eds were not backward and the basket ball team subscribed $25. The University team swept everything before it last year in the East, and it is expected this year that their route will be one endless series of victories. All of our citizens who can should attend the field day exercises tomorrow, and thus help to swell the fund that it is necessary for the boys to have in order to make the trip.

Professor Eugene, a so-called clairvoyant, who is in jail in San Francisco for defrauding Postmaster Bell of Carson City, out of $1200 by telling him that the spirits had revealed to him the fact that Bell was heir to millions of dollars in England, and that the money was needed to get the estate out of chancery, is vouched for by the Advocate as it runs his advertisement in its columns, and it claims to be a moral and religious journal.

We are still willing to make a wager that the GAZETTE has the largest circulation of any paper in Berkeley, the amount to be given to charity if it is proved that we have not what we claim. We are willing to show our subscription books at any time, and to allow those interested to watch the edition as it is printed off each afternoon.

The Advocate says that it will not publish "questionable" advertisements in its columns, yet it admits the advertisements of nostrums of quack doctors, swindling clairvoyants and prize tobacco, etc. Still it claims to be the moral lever that raises Berkeley. The general public does not think so.

Thomas P. Graber has not yet announced that he has no interest of any kind in the Advocate. The announcement of the editor that he has not, cuts no figure.

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY.

Is Now Offered to Those Who Have Money to Invest in a Legitimate Enterprise.

The Alameda and Santa Barbara Development Co. which was incorporated for the purpose of developing oil wells at Summerland, have now decided to offer 1000 shares of their capital stock at $1 00 per share, the par value of which is $3 00. The Company have now 4 oil wells producing 50 barrels per day, besides a water well which will save an outlay of $35 per month besides having an abundance of water to sell to others, it being the only water well in the country.

No effort has been made heretofore to dispose of stock, but on account of the increasing demand for oil and the recent advance in price they are anxious to put down at least 10 more wells as soon as possible and more money is needed for that purpose. There whole output is sold faster than can be delivered besides offers have been made for all they can produce at the wells.

When their property is fully developed, they expect to produce 400 barrels per day, as they have sufficient territory for 40 wells.

There being an underground flow to the ocean, the supply is inexhaustible.

Summerland is situated six miles south of Santa Barbara, on the Ventura branch railroad, and on the completion of the gap from Ellwood north will be on the main line to Los Angeles.

The company owning property on both sides of the railroad extending to the ocean gives them splendid facilities for shipping by rail or water, as a wharf is about to be built, there being a natural harbor opposite their property.

They are fully equipped with steam power, pumping plant, and other machinery necessary for the work, and also tank room for 700 barrels.

They are not wanting money to prospect at other people's expense, but to develop that which is an absolute certainty, and can be vouched for by the most reliable authority.

The Company is composed of well known business men of Berkeley.

PLAYING DOMINOS.

Mistress Harding—Will she know
How to play at dominos—
With the children little and shy,
Wide awake at break of day—
First she shakes her tiniest chicken,
Matching by Mary with her eyes—
Next she buys her largest hen,
Matched with Lucy's laughter bright.
Then she throws her dashing true,
Matched with sashes in many hues.
Flowers come now, sweet white and red,
Matched by Josie's flowerlike head.
For each chapel the morning throws
In this game of dominos—
Something sweet the children bring,
Matching her in everything.
If the game goes thus all day,
Who will be the victor, pray?
—Amos R. Wells in St. Nicholas.

A MIDNIGHT MIRAGE.

It was nearly midnight. The ironing was done, and the clothes lay heaped on the table in snowy piles still hot from the iron. Ann Quinn drew a chair up to the little kitchen window that over looked the river and sat down with a sigh of pain, for her back ached. She rested her chin in her hand and stared through the faint tracery of familiar objects on the glass to the water beyond, lying dark and glossy under the stars.

"I wonder if Mis' Niles wants that chipped beef for breakfast," thought Ann Quinn, for she was both a cook and a laundress. "Guess I'll fry them cold potatoes left from dinner, too," she continued, her eyes resting on a faraway cluster of electric lights that trembled like a diamond pendant.

Presently, as she sat there, the red rim of the moon pushed itself up behind some trees on the opposite shore. Ann Quinn watched it rising, with a meditative look. "It's terrible red. Them little branches looks like they was drawn on it with a pen. I wonder what that black thing in the water is?" she broke off as a feeler of moonlight slipped across the river to where something black and long bobbed stiffly in the current. She shaded her eyes from the lamp and pressed her face close to the glass. "Looks like a man," she muttered. As she spoke the thing wheeled about and began drifting in toward the stone breakwater beneath the window. Slowly it drew near, the little moon sparks dancing in its wake. It floated into the shadow, and she strained her eyes in vain to follow it.

"Guess I'll go to bed," she said, giving one more look into the darkness. She did not go, though, for suddenly she saw a lean hand thrust over the breakwater, then another, and the next moment the figure of a man crawled out on the stone below her.

Ann Quinn started back, her heart pumping like a steam dredger, for she heard the thick sounds of wet feet coming up the steps, and she saw a face pressed against the window that she had just quitted—a drawn face, yellow, pale as the handkerchief knotted about its throat.

"Let me in, Ann Quinn," said the lips, though she heard no voice. "Let me in."

She stood staring, her broad cheeks white as the plates on the dresser behind her, but she did not move. The man waited a moment, then he pushed up the sash and swung himself into the room.

The lamp blinked and guttered in the draft, and a door slammed. Ann Quinn quivered from head to foot. The man stood looking at her with famished eyes.

"A lifetime, a whole lifetime," he whispered at last, and his voice sounded cold and empty as the echo in a vault.

"Go away!" cried Ann Quinn. "And take your wet hand off my ironing."

The man moved and stared at the piles of clothes on the table.

"Did you do that?" he asked in a low voice. "And are you tired?"

"Yes, I did it, and I am tired," she replied, stealing her way stealthily toward the door.

As she moved, her terror lent a new, catlike grace to her awkward body. She looked almost like another woman in the swaying light—a woman with narrow, wicked eyes and lithe motions. The man stepped quickly before the door and stood there, his clothes flooding the black river water on her clean floor.

"And all this time you have worked, while I have had more, a thousand times more, than I could use. And we have lived near each other here in the same city and never knew it." He covered his face with his hands and groaned. "Our sin—what was it that we should reap such lonely years as punishment?" Then he moved toward her, his arms outstretched: "My love, my lost love! Give me one kiss, my first since that other grave closed over us."

Ann Quinn gulped, and her hair rose softly. "If you touch me, I'll kill you!" she said hoarsely, catching a knife up from the shelf behind her. The man seemed not to hear her; he grasped her in his arms and crushed his mouth on hers, and his lips were wet and cold.

Ann Quinn leaped away from him and buried the great knife in his heart. He looked into her terrified eyes, and a shadow fell on his face.

"See," he said mournfully, "you have stabbed me—again; but this time it is to late."

She looked, and there was no blood gushing from that great slash—only the drip, drip of the thick water. Then she covered her face and prayed, for she saw that the man was dead.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Experience of an English Cavalryman With Indian Treachery.

I was not a religious man, but never bishop or parson prayed with greater fervor. From 1848 till now is a long time, but I still wake in the night though not so often as I once did, after fighting that battle over again. It was in 1848, and I belonged to the Nineteenth Hussars, the one white cavalry regiment operating in the second Sikh war. That war lasted only 80 days, but it had more fighting compressed into it than many a three years' campaign. While the suffering was greater in the Crimea, the fighting never was harder. A cavalryman away from his horse is like a fish out of water, and they had not mounted infantry in those days, so it was with a bad grace that we, whose horses had been lost at Chillian-Wallah and Sobraon, found ourselves attached to the Twenty-fourth infantry and guarding supplies while the regiment pushed on.

There were two companies of the Twenty-fourth and about a troop of our men, some of us wounded, but able to do work which did not necessitate marching. The camp was in a deserted temple, which allowed some protection from attack, and also contained a large tank. This water would have startled people at home, but we were glad to have it, such as it was. I was not a nervous man; I had been in the first line at Sadoolapoor, but when I found myself doing picket duty in the early morning on the outer edge of the temple boundaries I devoutly wished myself safe beyond the sea, under the shadow of St. Paul's. The moon was shining brightly, but I stood in the shadow of one of the two tall pillars peculiar to those temples. It was clear as day elsewhere, but still as the grave, and I would have welcomed the howl of the jackal, but they were all away following the army.

No obstruction prevented my seeing in all directions, but it was this very thing which chilled my heart. An open foe could be met, but, though for two nights the sentries at this post had never returned alive, nothing of a struggle had been heard. The body of one of them had been found lying in the temple tank only this morning. Oh, for my good horse, which I had seen hamstrung by a keen Baluchi blade! I had now been on duty an hour, and nothing had happened. The early morning hours, the hardest of all, were here, and my mind had unconsciously gone on with the regiment and in spirit I was near the gates of Lahore, when I thought I heard a muffled sound. I closely scanned the ground around, but I could see nothing, and, though I listened, while big perspiration came off in big beads, though it was a cool night for India, the sound was not repeated.

I had begun to think that I was mistaken and that my nervousness had alarmed me and was laughing at my fears, when once more I heard distinctly the sound as of a camel's soft foot, almost noiseless. Wheeling around the next moment, I saw for an instant a figure stealing toward me in the shadow of the temple tower and hardly to be discerned from it. It was between me and my friends, but what was it? Much larger than a man it seemed. Should I fire and give the alarm, or should I wait? In those days we had only muzzle loaders, and to fire without the shot telling meant to have nothing but the bayonet to depend on. I raised my musket and fired. My motions and I reloaded while the guard hurried down from camp, and all was bustle and preparation.

Going cautiously forward we found what appeared in the dim light to be a black bear, but pulling it into the moonlight a large crooked blade shone out from one of its paws. The next day we found a hole in the ground, which in the day was covered by a stone slab, leading down to a canal which connected with the tank in the temple, and in this canal were the bodies of three of our sentries, with their throats cut. The mystery of the floating body was solved.—Chicago Times-Herald.
